Dear Friends:

Throughout my career, I have been honored to hear many compliments about the remarkable talent, poise and passion exhibited by the choruses I have nurtured and directed. But, I have never been literally stunned by a fan’s critique of one of our concerts... until today. Please share in my joy by taking a few moments to read “Boston City Singers,” written by Poet Robert Knox, a gentleman I have never met. He wrote this award-winning poem last spring after attending a community performance by our Tour Choir in Milton, MA. The work premiered on the eve of the 71st Anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights in Florida.

I hope it moves you as it did me.

In sincerest appreciation of your interest and support,

Jane E. Money
Founding Artistic Director

BOSTON CITY SINGERS

You unsettle my soul
Sing to the pain in my limbs
And loose the ice in my heart
“Make them hear you!”

This old white building enclosing the songs of a life that would make of earth a heaven if we let it Will we let it?
Tell me, “Where is Madiba?”
“We have not seen him.”

Spirit does not die
It gets to the bones
Wakes the thing that tingles
as if striking a gong calling to worship
the birds of the tree,
the trees with their upswelling
branching and leafing once again,
songs to clear the air, stir the blood and make the sap run in spaces slow and gloom-ridden like the clay toes
of the stumbling tyrant

The songs of the children raise the soul in old flesh.

— Robert Knox
Spring, 2019
We expect a lot from our singers. In each phase of their training, they commit to weekly rehearsals of increasing duration and intensity, guided by our detailed and precise curriculum and using proven methods for instruction. We provide them with the means to proudly perform well at neighborhood, citywide, regional, and international concerts, while having fun alongside children and youth from all backgrounds.

OUR PROGRAMS

- Kodály Singing Classes (age 4-Kindergarten) and Melody Makers (grades 1-2): Joy-filled experiences with folk songs, games, and dances that introduce ear training, sight reading, pitch, rhythm, and instruments from around the world. Melody Makers also begins rhythmic and melodic writing of simple pentatonic melodies, rounds, partner songs and songs in two-part harmony. (Cambridge, Dorchester and Jamaica Plain)

- Neighborhood Training Choruses (grades 3–5): Strengthening rhythm, score reading, and sight-singing in 2–3 voice parts in three languages. (Cambridge, Dorchester and Jamaica Plain)

- Cantare (grades 6–9): Intensive classes in music literacy and vocal coaching. Singers prepare music in 3-4 parts and five languages. Develop skills needed for competitive college chorus auditions and regional performances. (Dorchester, Cambridge)

- Harmony (grades 6-12): Developing skills needed for competitive college chorus auditions and regional performances. (Dorchester)

- Tour Choir (grades 6-12): Repertoire in 11 languages and multiple parts, music composition, movement and improvisation performed at national and international concerts. Participation in 3-week World Voices International Tours in alternating years. (Dorchester)

- World Rhythm Ensemble (grades 6-12): Music with complex rhythms of Latin America and West Africa. (Dorchester)

- OperaKids (grades 6-12): Performance in the region’s most significant staged regional opera productions. (All ages based on need of the opera company or music conservatory)
Last summer, 38 singers embarked on a 3-week journey to the Czech Republic, Bosnia-Herzegovina and Croatia after a brief visit to Vienna. While on this Global Voices Tour, they were a headline attraction at the Croatian International Choir Festival. Sixteen additional performances followed . . . most planned and some totally impromptu. The singers made their way through a Moravian folk festival, performed on Croatian national television, took dance lessons from native experts, and hiked the Plitvice Lakes region (a UNESCO World Heritage site). All was done while making new friends, developing different talents, tasting new delicacies and forming strong friendships with their fellow singers.
Boston City Singers is empowered by the generosity of our donors!

Singing is transcendent — an out of body experience in which you express emotions that lie deep within yourself. And, by doing so, you can positively impact those around you. Music is not just a hobby; it is a sacred and holy part of who I am. That’s what Boston City Singers has shown me and I am forever grateful.
